INTERNATIONAL GRADUATE DEBATE

Patriotism, Cosmopolitanism and Democracy

– Call for Applications –

Estoril Forum, near Lisbon

25th – 27th June 2018

The Institute for Political Studies of the Catholic University of Portugal is hosting its annual major international summer school and conference in Lisbon, at the end of June, bringing together policymakers and academics from the US, UK, Portugal and the rest of Europe. Keynote speakers will include: David Goodhart (Founder, Prospect and Head of Demography, Immigration and Integration Unit, Policy Exchange, London), William Galston, (The Brookings Institution, Columnist, Wall Street Journal, Washington D.C), José Manuel Durão Barroso (Former President of the European Commission; Director, Centre for European Studies, IEP-UCP, Lisbon), Andrew Roberts, King's College London; International Churchill Society Academic Advisers, Wilhelm Hofmeister (Director for Spain and Portugal, Konrad Adenauer Stiftung, Madrid)

The motion to be debated will be:

“Should we support our nations and/or should we support internationalism?”

It will be in the form of a public Oxford Union-style event led by Europaeum graduate students. This will involve four research graduates- each speaking for or against the given proposition, with expert commentators on hand, and a final open vote on the proposition taken.

Board and accommodation costs (including three special conference dinners) for this significant three-day conference, based on the Lisbon coast, will be covered for the selected graduates, and a grant towards travel will be given. Interested candidates are asked to submit a note (max. 2 pages) explaining why they should be chosen, including issues they consider significant and relevant to the debate theme, plus a short CV and a note of support from their professor, to the Europaeum Office: <https://europaeum.org/opportunities-2/apply-for-a-europaeum-event/>

Deadline for applications: 14th May 2018
